TO: Asher Ben NATHAN and Samuel ROSENFIELD

FROM: Reference- MSGA-168

SUBJECT: GENERAL
Unfortunately, with the exception of a few references, there is no further information on Samuel ROSENFIELD than that given in MSGA.

The following biographical data on Asher Ben NATHAN are taken from an application for a military permit to enter Germany in March 1949 (EFFA 2242):

Israeli citizen, born Austrian.
Born 15 February 1918 in Vienna.
Passport No. 71, issued at Haikirya on 20 December 1948.
Address: Legation d'Israel, 143 Ave. Wagram, Paris.
Consulate d'Israel, Vienna.
Occupation: "Yosephine".

3. In reply to your three queries in paragraph 2, we can only say that the two subjects were reported being together in [REDACTED]. Under what circumstances, we do not know. Our only clues to NATHAN's and ROSENFIELD's permanent location are the statements in the former's application above, listing Paris and Vienna, and for the latter the report (NBB-W-2263) which merely describes him as an official of the Israeli Foreign Ministry.
